A detailed photograph of a wooden workbench filled with various textile materials. On the left, a colorful woven basket holds several small rolls of fabric in shades of blue, orange, and grey. Next to it is a pair of gold-handled scissors and a small notebook with a colorful braided cord and a metal clasp. In the center, a large roll of patterned fabric is partially unrolled. To the right, several spools of vibrant thread in red, blue, green, and yellow are visible. The background shows shelves with more folded fabrics and small jars containing buttons or beads.
